

HALLOWEEN HISTORY- HISTORY CHANNEL (MATCHING GAME)

The old Halloween festival was called Samhain (pronounced “soin”). Celts are people who spread Europe over 2,000 years ago. One of the games mentioned is Bobbing for apples, played by filling a tub or a large basin with water and putting apples in the water. Players (usually children) then try to catch one with their teeth. Use of arms is not allowed, and often are tied behind the back to prevent cheating.
